As low as possible last year, in the hope of securing a large number of subscribers. We have now come to the conclusion that we have as many as 150 shares we can ever expect, and therefore the only chance we have of being received is to increase our number of subscribers, and the consequence is that we are satisfied with dead stock. For this reason it was that we made the terms as low as possible last year, in the hope of securing a large number of subscribers.
